CURRENT BIBLIOGRAPHY

The Current Bibliography is the most complete and up-to-date international bibliography of recent Dostoevsky research published at present. It has been the intention of the compilers that the Current Bibliography when used as a supplement to the preceding issues of the IDS "Bulletin" be as nearly inclusive as possible of all material published from 1970 to the present year. It is our aim for the bibliography eventually to be exhaustive. Consequently the latest year is usually the least representative, and the earlier years become more and more complete as time goes by. In general, we can say that over a three to four year period the entries for the first of those years will be nearly complete.

Colleagues are encouraged to forward items which have thus far escaped listing and new sources as they are discovered to:

Professor Martin P. Rice
Associate Editor, "Dostoevsky Studies"
Department of Germanic and Slavic Languages
Knoxville, Tennessee 37916
U.S.A.

This year we have introduced a new format for the Current Bibliography. Instead of three separate listings (Western Non-Slavic Languages, Languages of the Soviet Union including Émigré, and East European Languages), we have merged the three parts into one listing in the belief that this format will be easier to use for our colleagues, most of whom do their research in more than one language. In this way, only one listing has to be checked instead of two or three. In addition, you will notice that certain items in the bibliography begin with a star (*). This sign indicates that the given entry has been verified physically by one of the compilers and has not been reproduced from other listings. The compilers are attempting to make the bibliography as great an extent as possible de visu in order to insure its accuracy.
