CURRENT BIBLIOGRAPHY

The Current Bibliography is the most complete and up-to-date international bibliography of recent Dostoevsky research. Compilers for this issue include: Ms. Sue Vest McCallum of the University of Tennessee Library, responsible for publications in Western Non-Slavic languages; Professor Douglas Freeman of the University of Tennessee Library, responsible for publications in languages of the Soviet Union, including émigré; and Professor June Pachuta of the Special Languages Library of the University of Illinois at Urbana/Champaign, responsible for publications in East European languages.

The Current Bibliography continues in the format introduced in IDS Bulletin No. 5 and is divided into the following sections:

I. Western Non-Slavic Languages (S. McCallum)

II. Languages of the Soviet Union, including Émigré
(D. Freeman)

III. East European Languages (J. Pachuta)

It has been the intention of the compilers that the Current Bibliography, when used as a supplement to the preceding issues of the IDS Bulletin, be as nearly inclusive as possible of all material published from 1970 to the present year. It is our aim for the bibliography eventually to be exhaustive. Consequently, the latest year is usually the least representative, and the earlier years become more and more complete as time goes by. In general, we can say that over a three to four year period the entries for the first of those years will be nearly complete.

Citations for inclusion in the Current Bibliography were received from many contributors, to whom the compilers extend their thanks. In particular, the Assistant Editors would like to express their appreciation to Professors Sava Pencic, Rudolf Neuhauser, Nadine Natov, and many others. Colleagues are encouraged to forward items which have thus far escaped listing and new sources as they are discovered to:
